

1. Tobias references Freddie Wilson just after this thing is first named. When Andy Richter asks what they did together, Michael mentions this thing which Andy then thinks is the subject of the movie. Buster says that Herbert Love has gotten himself in this thing after handing photos to Lucille Austero of Love with a “lady of the night”. Tobias tries to convince Michael to send George Michael to Openings because he thinks he has OCD while this thing is created. Buster complains he is hungry and couldn’t hitchhike without a thumb, after which he eats this substance. For 10 points, name this “soup” Lindsay makes after finding a can of ham and putting it in boiling water.

ANSWER: hot ham water [prompt on partial answer]

2. In this episode, Maeby tells Lindsay that she’s never thought of her as a mother, which Lindsay thinks is sweet. Lucille fakes a break-in attempt during this episode because Oscar has gone on his 420-mile walk from Newport Beach to Berkeley and later GOB actually breaks in to steal all of Lucille’s alcohol. George Michael attends a party hosted on Bethlehem time during this episode in which GOB threatens to take off his pants if anyone touches Lindsay. After the title of this episode is said, Michael goes off to get punch and sends Maeby in a different direction. Lucille runs over GOB dressed in a banana suit after consuming some marijuana that shares its name with the title of this episode. For 10 points, name this episode in which Michael and Maeby sing the title song only to discover it is not about what they think it is about.

ANSWER: “Afternoon Delight”

3. Maeby tells this character that Michael does not love George Michael. When this character went to the beach, he ended up in a crate next to a pig. This character orders a tomato juice that costs him $700. George tells Buster that he was a “turd out there” and that there was no ban on organized sports after this character takes soccer lessons. George steals this character’s Uncle Sam wig in order to escape the hospital. Lucille gives this character money to see a “Star War” and uses him as a purse. This grandson of the original Banana Stand owner collects evidence to report the Bluths to the SEC. For 10 points, name this adopted Korean son of Lucille.

ANSWER: Annyong or Hel-loh

4. While looking for a place to stash garbage, Lindsay finds one of these items and decides to sell it on eBay. After leaving Fat Ammy’s, Michael is struck by a flying one of these items. George Sr. pointedly says “I don’t let them tell me what to do” to some of these items while talking to Michael. George Sr. tries to save one of these items during the fumigation. George Sr. asks these items “Now, who wants to take their top off?” while starved for company in the attic and hosting tea parties. For 10 points, name these toys that George hosts tea parties with in the attic.

ANSWER: dolls

5. One character goes to this place after being severely beaten with a soup ladle. A mantle at this location is covered with trophies. A newly virile Oscar accidentally calls Lucille and pretends to be George when she is at this location. One character is sent to this place because she reminds someone of a “real sick version” of his grandmother. A hoarder who steals lilies from this location later announces that he can’t swim after falling into the bay on Cinco de Cuatro. The motto of this place is “A Full-Service Way to Live Without”. After accepting a job here to get out of prison, Tobias stages a musical based on the Fantastic 4. For 10 points, name this rehab center owned by Lucille Austero.

ANSWER: Austerity

6. During one of these events, Lindsay stages a fake phone call and says “I found my birth control pills.” Children grab candy from a pinata during a “less-than-perfect” one of these events. Gob finally makes the cover of Poof! magazine after one of these events. Gene Parmesan tackles Gob outside one of these events for doing a chicken dance. Buster shows up to one of these events in a fake army uniform carrying a yellow envelope. Michael notices Glisten toothpaste in the dirt after one of these events and looks in the attic. Gob performs his coffin magic trick at one of these events, the other one of which was staged by the Mexican authorities. For 10 points, name these events surrounding the staged death of a member of the Bluth family.

ANSWER: fake funerals of George Bluth Sr.

7. After being shot with a tranquilizer, Lindsay is placed in front of a sign with this phrase written in Spanish. Buster decides to take a long shower because he doesn’t want to smell like Mother anymore after this phrase is uttered. Lindsay describes Bob Loblaw with this phrase after using up the retainer on flirting with Bob over the phone. This phrase is uttered in response to the suggestion of pretending not to have signatures and to flee to the seas and be prosecuted under maritime law. For 10 points, name this phrase that Lucille uses to describe Barry Zuckerkorn.

ANSWER: “He’s very good”

8. One character declares “there’s no I in win” prior to this event and says that “you can control your bladder when you’re dead.” Prior to this event, GOB suggests googling songs with the word “hump” in them. At this event, one person sports the nose Nicole Kidman wore in The Hours which was a gift from Jamie Kennedy. George Michael demonstrates his ability to hang from monkey bars at this event where George Sr. is asked to speak in the Scared Straight tent. Michael and Steve Holt compete in a father-son triathlon at this event which also featured the Inner Beauty Pageant. For 10 points, name this festival jointly sponsored by the government and religious institutions.

ANSWER: Church and State Fair

9. Jackie and Joan mock this character by pretending to have moustaches and saying “I’m a gloomy gus.”

This man's son, who is described as an "all-week party boy and huge disappointment to his father," offers to pay Gob's bar tab if he does a magic trick. This man mutters "I gotta go... I can't be a part of this story" after overhearing Kitty exclaim "Michael Bluth is threatening me!" at a restaurant. George Michael said "the last time we had a customer the banana stand was still green" in an interview that this man cuts in favor of the Iraq piece. This man tells Tobias there is a raccoon on the patio while hosting To Entrap a Local Predator. For 10 points, name this local news anchor for Fox 6.

ANSWER: John Beard

10. Michael says he is not an ATM when Gob announces he owes these people $500. Michael gets the idea to ask these people for help after reading a note written on the back of a receipt from Barnacle Bills. One of these people says that switching to Follies is not going to help because they miscalculated after he gets shot. George Michael's choir teacher is one of these people. Two drug dealers think they've been set up after seeing some of these people arrive on a boat during a pretend drug bust. Gob was fired from working for these people after being "too believable" and being fired at with a shotgun when he pounded on a motel door and shouted "Police! Open up!". For 10 points, name these strippers the Bluths hire on various occasions.

ANSWER: Hot Cops [prompt on "strippers"]

11. Maeby thinks that a quote about this item may be enough to get her emancipated from her parents. This item is shown when Lupe's daughter tries to check into rehab. This item is shown in the same image as Mrs. Featherbottom in George Michael's campaign video. This item is purchased after George Sr. pays off the inmates not to comment on its owner. In an attempt to seduce Ice, Lindsay says "I'm going to throw on a skirt, take off my underwear, and make your Pop-Pop proud" before donning this object. Lindsay owns a similar item to this that says "Shemale." For 10 points, name this red tank top bearing the title word that Lindsay wears to prison and to George Sr.'s funeral.

ANSWER: SLUT shirt

12. Buster points to an upside down button he is wearing in an objection of Michael calling this man and George Sr. objects to calling him on Yontif after claiming he is dead. This man explains that a customer cannot get a refund because they unwrapped their purchase. GOB says "GOB Bluth doesn't cave" after caving to George Sr.'s manipulatively calling GOB his favorite son during a discussion about this man. Michael says "These guys are painters!" before he and GOB get into a Boyfight and realize that their father contacted this man. When the Bluths run out of milk, George Sr. hires this man so that the children learn to always leave a note. For 10 points, name this one-armed man who teaches the Bluth children lessons.

ANSWER: J. Walter Weatherman

13. After regaining his self confidence for coming up with a plan involving one of these items, GOB concludes "I am a worthless magician". One of these items is obsolete because its owner is "not taking that monkey drug anymore". GOB was "actually trying to get the key to come out of [his] mouth" after failing to puke up a key near one of these items. The thief of one of these items is shown on the Girls With Low Self Esteem video prior to GOB blowing up the Yacht. One of these items was stolen while Lucille was at Senor Tadpole's after escaping from rehab to take part in a drinking contest. One of these items contains 250 ccs of semen and is labeled H. Maddas. For 10 points, name these objects that contain exonerating information about George Sr. stolen by Kitty.

ANSWER: cooler full of evidence