

Military operations

In response to one incident during this operation, Ambassador James Sasser and his staff were besieged by rock-throwing protestors. One commander of this operation assembled Task Force Hawk, which didn't actually fire a single shot. Collateral damage in this operation include the bombing of a train at Grdelica and the bombing of a Chinese embassy. This operation, which was referred to as "Noble Anvil" by the United States, was succeeded by the use of a peacekeeping force called KFOR. This operation was commanded by Wesley Clark and was the first NATO operation conducted without UNSC approval. For 10 points, name this 1999 operation, which ended with Slobodon Milosevic withdrew his forces.

ANSWER: Operation Allied Force

A helicopter carrying General Morris Brady was fired on during this operation. This operation was carried out by Task Force Vierra, which included a group of special forces that strapped Claymore mines to their chests and yelled at an opposing force to cross a bridge. This operation, which was planned by Richard Stilwell, was carried out in response to an incident in which Mark Barrett and Arthur Bonifas were beaten to death for trimming a tree in the DMZ. For 10 points, name this response to the Axe Murder Incident, named for a mythical American lumberjack.

ANSWER: Operation Paul Bunyan

This operation succeeded in capturing Saaremaa and Hiiumaa, and those gains were cemented by a victory at the Battle of Moon Sound. For 10 points, name WWI operation launched by the German Empire to take over the West Estonian Archipelago.

ANSWER: Operation Albion

The Night Stalkers were created in the aftermath of this operation, which was planned by James B. Vaught. In the aftermath of this operation, Bluebeard 2 and 8 were captured by opposing force. A follow-up to this operation involved outfitting Hercules C-130s with rocket engines and was called Operation Credible Sport. Cyrus Vance resigned in response to this operation, which resulted in the loss of six helicopters due to a haboob. For 10 points, name this failed operation to rescue hostages from Tehran.

ANSWER: Operation Eagle Claw

This operation was originally named Talon Vise before it was compromised. During this operation, Charles McMahon and Darwin Judge were killed by a rocket attack hitting Guardpost 1. Hubert Van Es took a famous photograph of this event, which was carried out by the Don Whitmire-commanded Task Force 76. The song "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas" was used as a code during this event to tell people to assemble at the DAO office. This operation occurred in April 1975 immediately before the PAVN took over. For 10 points, name this operation which evacuated the capital of South Vietnam.

ANSWER: Operation Frequent Wind

Terrorism

The perpetrator of this event used the pseudonym Roy Walsh. A local Marks and Spencer opened early in the aftermath of this event to re-clothe the victims for a conference. This attack was perpetrated by Patrick Magee. For 10 points, name this attack, an attempt to kill Margaret Thatcher by the provisional IRA.

ANSWER: Brighton Hotel Bombing

The target of this event was located on the corner of King George St. and Jaffa Road. A pregnant American and a Brazilian were among the people killed in this attack. One perpetrator of this attack was exchanged as part of the Gilad Shalit prisoner deal, and is named Ahlam Tamimi. For 10 points, name this 2001 attack on a pizzeria in Jerusalem.

ANSWER: Sbarro Pizza bombing

Initially, two watchmen who lit smudge pots were arrested for this event. It was carried out by Michael Kristof, a Slovak immigrant. Fragments from this attack, which occurred in Jersey City, destroyed the windows in St. Patrick's Church and damaged the Statue of Liberty. For 10 points, name this attack in which German agents destroyed a ship carrying munitions for the allies in WWI.

ANSWER: Black Tom Explosion

ANSWER: Bali bombings

ANSWER: 2004 Madrid Train Bombings

ANSWER: Grand Mosque Seizure

ANSWER: Aum Shinrikyo Tokyo Subway

ANSWER: Azanian People's Liberation Army

ANSWER: EZLN

ANSWER: Naxalite insurgency

Bio Speedchecks

The mnemonic "To Zanzibar By Motor Car" is used to remember the branches of this nerve. Bilateral damage to this nerve sometimes occurs in sarcoidosis, and it contains the efferent branch of the corneal reflex. Its function is tested by cheek puffing, eye closing, and smiling. This nerve is damaged in Bell's palsy. For 10 points, name this nerve, the seventh cranial nerve.

ANSWER: Facial nerve

This disease has a normal result for the ristocetin cofactor activity test, but abnormal results with APD, thrombin, or collagen. The protein mutated in this syndrome is also targeted by abciximab and eptifibatide. For 10 points, name this genetic disease caused by mutations in either Gp-2-b or Gp-3-a, resulting in platelets not working or something.

ANSWER: Glanzmann thrombasthenia

The NIH scale for these events goes up to 42 points and includes points for dysarthria and neglect. They can be detected acutely as bright on FLAIR. In young people, the workup for these events includes factor 5 leiden and APS. People with CADASIL have increased chances of having these, and an easy way to detect them is to test for pronator drift. For 10 points, name these events in which blood supply to the brain is interrupted.

ANSWER: stroke

People with the HLA-B*1502 gene have increased probability of getting this condition after taking Carbamazepine. TEN is the extreme form of this condition, which causes ulcers in mucus membranes. For 10 points, name this horrifying condition in which the epidermis separates from the dermis, most often caused by a drug reaction.

ANSWER: Stevens-Johnson syndrome

In fetuses, this drug is hella dangerous, and can cause a trigonal-shaped head, lowered IQ, and neural tube defect. This drug inhibits GABA transaminase, raising levels of GABA, and also inhibits HDAC6. This drug comes in a sodium, sodium-free, and semi-sodium forms, and is used to treat both bipolar disorder and epilepsy. For 10 points, name this anti-epileptic with the brand name Depakote.

ANSWER: Valproate

The urachus connects the fetal bladder to this structure. The first hematopoiesis occurs in blood islands in this structure. For 10 points, name this structure that nourishes the early fetus.

ANSWER: Yolk sac

This drug is given as prophylaxis for meningitis to college kids. It inhibits RNA polymerase, and is often given alongside ethambutol, pyrazinamide, and isoniazid. For 10 points, name this TB drug that turns your fluids orange.

ANSWER: rifampin

Anti-Tr antibodies are commonly associated with this condition. The pathognomic cells in this condition have an owl's eyes appearance. For 10 points, name this cancer which shows Reed-Sternberg cells.

ANSWER: Hodgkin's Lymphoma

The acronym RED DANES is used to remember the effects of this drug, which can be added to cigarettes or marijuana as "dippers". Overdose of this drug, which is an NMDA receptor antagonist, causes rotatory nystagmus. For 10 points, name this drug that makes you feel like Superman.

ANSWER: PCP

Other

One character who uses this element is the alternate version of the leader of the Six Heroes, Hakumen; that character is a former Major in the Novus Orbis Librarium, is the brother of Saya and Ragna the Bloodedge, and is named Jin Kisaragi. In a 2011 game, another user of this element is transformed into a cybernetic form before having his circuits overloaded by Sindel. Another character who uses this element is an androgynous companion of Zabuza Momochi in the Naruto universe, named Haku. Kuai

Liang and Bi Han are two members of the Lin Kuei who at one time wielded this element, though Bi Han was resurrected as Noob Saibot after his death. For 10 points, name this element wielded in the Mortal Kombat universe by Sub-Zero.

ANSWER: Ice